Pedagogy/Teaching Method:

Experiential and Project based method will be used to deliver this course where students are expected to have 3 hours field visits and 2 hours 30 mins classroom sessions. There will be four field visits based on four themes of the course.

In Class room sessions before field visits, students will discuss themes and prepare themselves for the field visits, working on research questions.

In Class room sessions post field visit students will discuss their observations, experiences, interactions with other fellow classmates and instructor. They will jointly develop a working hypothesis and inferences which will be tested and validated in their next field visits.

For this course we are planning to visit New Market in Calcutta and the institute is requested to provide transportation to go for the field work and returning back to the campus.
